Because construction is essential in the state of Colorado and construction workers can continue working during this COVID-19 pandemic, we need to maintain the best practices possible during this time with regards to employee and community wellbeing. By signing the document, you affirm that as the foreman, you have met with your workers at the site gate in the morning and asked the following questions:

- 1) Are you sick?
Estas enfermo o te sientes enfermo?
- 2) Do you have a fever, cough, or shortness of breath?
Tienes fiebre, tos, o dificultad para respirar?
- 3) Is anyone in your household have a fever, cough, or shortness of breath?
Alguien de las personas con quien vives esta enfermo, tiene fiebre, o dificultades para respirar?
- 4) Have you been in close contact with any known case of COVID-19?
Has estado en contacto o cerca de alguien que tenga COVID-19?

We will require immediate removal from the site if any worker who is sick or exhibiting symptoms.

All foremen need to issue daily logs substantiating manpower quantity and if COVID 19 has impacted their overall job performance. Please document your man count below. Please contact Jonah Kinchy if your schedule of work is affected.

- Remove workers in locations where inspections are taking place for enhanced safety to inspectors.
- Daily, all common area surfaces will be cleaned by wiping down all stair rails, doorknobs, toilet handles, etc...
- CDC social distancing protocols will always be followed. All workers must maintain 6 feet separation during work hours between one another including lunch and break times.
- Personal hygiene will always be used. Hand washing stations will be provided. Wash hands frequently throughout the day especially before eating.
